Meet the Experts & their wines...

Jerome and Aurelie Vic of Domaine Preignes le Vieux are at the forefront of the rise of The Languedoc as one of the great wine regions of France. Combining tradition and modernity in their medieval Domaine, they produce wines that are both individual and yet representative of their place. They will be showing a selection of their own wines.

Tim Harrison is English but was three when his family moved to France and there he stayed. For many years he was the Sommelier at one of the South of France's leading two star Michelin restaurants, he is now a wine merchant in France and specialises in high calibre, small owner/growers wines. He will be showing wines from some of the leading small Domaines in The Rhone Valley

Stanley Park is a English wine merchant with thirty years experience. Well travelled and versed in the World's wines, he has visited most of the Domaines that we will be showing today and is a passionate and engaging advocate for small producers of craft wines.
